Travers Thorp Abergel (TTA) is a full service offshore law firm with offices in the Cayman Islands, the British Virgin Islands, and Hong Kong. Its strengths include expertise in insolvency and restructurings, dispute resolution, private client, funds, banking, corporate, and regulatory matters. Languages spoken by the firm include English. TTA's clients can rely on the constant direct involvement of a highly experienced partner with a proven track record supported by highly qualified and experienced senior associates. TTA's partners have an average of fifteen years' relevant experience and many were heads of department at the largest Cayman Islands law firms prior to joining TTA. TTA can also offer competitive and, where possible, flexible alternative fee arrangements that many other firms cannot. TTA's business model has been designed to be different from other law firms in a way that is relevant to client needs in a changed offshore legal and economic environment. Clients receive intuitive and incisive legal advice.

Its strengths include expertise in insolvency and restructurings, dispute resolution, private client, funds, banking, corporate, and regulatory matters. Languages spoken by the firm include English, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and Mandarin. Lawyers in the firm's Hong Kong office are vastly experienced in the Asian market and the Cayman Islands' dispute resolution team regularly handles cases involving multi-jurisdictional issues, often with an Asian, UK and/or US connection.

TTA operates a unique 'partner heavy' model where clients are guaranteed the close involvement of an experienced partner at all times. without internal layering and duplication. TTA is an unaffiliated fiduciary service company which means its advice is free of the conflicts of interest that otherwise arise. TTA's streamlined operating model allows it to provide superior legal advice at substantially lower rates and to offer flexible fee arrangements that are compelling.

The firm's dispute resolution group regularly acts in high-profile cross-border insolvencies and restructurings, often of multi-billion dollar listed companies, international commercial disputes including for shareholders, liquidators, trustees, investors, funds, directors, banks, and high net worth individuals from all over the world.
